NYU Langone Health

Neurology Residents & Recent Alumni

Meet the current residents of the Department of Neurology's residency training program, and learn more about our recent alumni

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2026

Yousuf Ahmed, MD

Hometown: Houston Texas and Ras Tanura, Saudia Arabia
Medical school: University of Texas at Austin Dell Medical School
Areas of interest: Vascular Neurology, Critical Care, Traumatic Brain Injury, Concussion, Education
Hobbies: Running, basketball, hiking, discovering new food

Why I chose NYU Langone: The people! The Department of Neurology at NYU is filled with incredible individuals who are equally kind and compassionate as they are brilliant. Additionally, the opportunity to train in New York City, specifically Bellevue, was very appealing to me..

Austin Chen, MD

Hometown: East Brunswick, New Jersey
Medical school: Cooper Medical School of Rowan University, United States of America
Areas of interest: Neuro-Immunology, MS, and Vascular Neurology
Hobbies: Philadelphia sports, UFC, League of Legends, and R&B/ hip hop

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU to train and learn from my inspiring peers and mentors, the extensive clinical training, and the opportunity to serve a diverse patient population.

Estella Chen, MD

Hometown: Rockland County, NY
Medical school: State University of New York Downstate Medical Center College of Medicine, United States of America
Areas of interest: General Neurology, Neuromuscular Disease, Multiple Sclerosis/Autoimmune, Headache, Medical Education
Hobbies: Reading (fantasy, mystery, espionage), hiking, exploring the city, spending time with friends and family

Why I chose NYU Langone: I was drawn to the opportunity to work with and learn from a diverse patient population, a plethora of pathologies, and warm and exceptional faculty/fellow residents.

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2026

Taymour Hashemzadeh, MD

Hometown: McLean, Virginia
Medical school: Georgetown University of Medicine
Areas of interest: MS, Movement disorders, Vascular neurology, Medical education
Hobbies: Skiing, tennis, basketball, pickle ball, live music, finding the best food in the city

Why I chose NYU Langone: The opportunity to train in NYC with an exceptional group of people and to be exposed to any and all pathology and patient populations.

Reya Hayek, MD

Hometown: Greenville, Mississippi
Medical school: University of Mississippi School of Medicine, United States of America
Areas of interest: Epilepsy, neurophysiology, social equity, medical education
Hobbies: Tennis, skiing, traveling, trying new foods and drinks around NYC

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU for the opportunity to train with incredible faculty while working towards helping patients from all over the world and simultaneously be exposed to a large variety of cultures both within the neurology program and among the NYU and NYC communities .

Dillan Newbold, MD

Hometown: Boone, Iowa
Medical school: Washington University in St. Louis School of Medicine, United States of America
Areas of interest: Movement disorders, Mood disorders, Deep brain stimulation
Hobbies: Playing with my dog + 2 cats, exploring New York, camping, traveling, sailing, snowboarding, video games

Why I chose NYU Langone: To work at Bellevue. It's the central hub of New York's public hospital system and provides affordable (often free) care for people from all over the world. Also because New York is awesome!

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2026

Riddhi Patel, MD

Hometown: Mumbai, India and Collegeville, PA
Medical school: Lewis Katz School of Medicine at Temple University, United States of America
Areas of interest: General Neurology, Movement disorders, Headache, Medical education, Preventative medicine
Hobbies: Traveling, dancing, painting, cooking, trying new restaurants & bakeries, outdoor activities, racket sports

Why I chose NYU Langone: The combination of an intellectually stimulating learning environment, a strong focus on medical education & resident wellness, and passionate, warm faculty whom I could see as my future mentors. I knew that training at NYU's three hospitals would expose me to a wide variety of pathology and a diverse patient population.

Stephen Ronay, MD

Hometown: Tampa, Florida
Medical school: Rutgers New Jersey Medical School, United States of America
Areas of interest: Education, Headache, Cognitive, Neuromuscular
Hobbies: Green tea, hiking, running, trying new chocolate

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU for its expert faculty, comprehensive clinical training, and the breadth of experience training at three hospital systems provides..

Lauren Sielski, MD

Hometown: Buffalo, New York
Medical school: Jacobs School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences at the University at Buffalo, United States of America
Areas of interest: Headache, Neuro-Immunology, medical education
Hobbies: Baking, skiing, trying new restaurants, hanging out in the park with friends

Why I chose NYU Langone: I was drawn to NYU because of the emphasis they place on giving world class care to patients from all backgrounds. I also felt that there was an immediate sense of community between the residents and faculty.

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2026

Kristen Watkins, MD

Hometown: Holmdel, NJ
Medical school: Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, United States of America
Areas of interest: Movement Disorders
Hobbies: Exploring NYC, spending time with my friends and colleagues

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU because of the amazing group of people I would train with and the great diversity of patients that I would treat and pathologies that I would gain exposure too.

Saami Zakaria, MD

Hometown: Saint Croix, US Virgin Islands
Medical school: NSidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University, United States of America
Areas of interest: Vascular Neurology, Neurocritical Care, Neuro restoration, neuro technology, Autonomic disorders
Hobbies: Basketball, resistance training and history

Why I chose NYU Langone: The opportunity to be in New York City and train intimately at both NYU and historic Bellevue, two distinguished hospitals for different reasons, appealed a lot to me. I felt a very friendly and collegial atmosphere here among faculty and residents. I also knew I would get a well rounded experience between clinical education and research opportunities.

Amanda Zhao, MD

Hometown: Houston, Texas
Medical school: New York University Grossman School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Still exploring!
Hobbies: Biking, spoiling/staging photo shoots fr my tuxedo cat Murray, reading and exploring NYC's gardens

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU Langone for the opportunity to train in one of the most diverse cities in the country, where we can treat and learn from patients from across the societal spectrum. We also have the opportunity to learn from faculty from across the subspecialty spectrum, with experts in pretty much any field you might be interested in! Most of all, though, I appreciate how every single person at NYU is so welcoming and so eager to teach us, the next generation of neurologists!

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2025

Christopher Chornay, MD

Hometown: Lanham, Maryland
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Still exploring!
Hobbies: Epilepsy, dementia, medical device development, and sustainable medicine
Why I chose NYU Langone: My initial impression which has held true is that NYU Langone's Neurology residents are generally happy, and that was a big draw for me. I know that only comes from a program that is thoughtfully structured by faculty and staff who love what they do and care about the residents. Beyond that, NYU Langone's mix of clinical sites offers an unparalleled opportunity to study and treat a breadth of neurological conditions while living in a vibrant, one of a kind city.
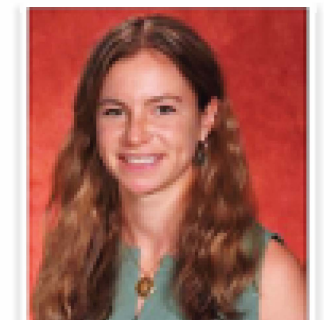

Thomas Flagiello , MD

Hometown: Brooklyn, New York
Medical school: SUNY Downstate
Areas of interest: Healthcare disparities, medical education, general neurology, neuroimmunology, neuro-infectious disease
Hobbies: Cooking, ice cream making, running

Why I chose NYU Langone: I felt at home before even starting my residency. The faculty are as warm and welcoming as they are brilliant and passionate about their craft, my co-residents are some of my closest friends rather than colleagues, and there is a strong emphasis on education and wellness. The ability to serve three diverse patient populations without having to walk more than ten minutes is unparalleled. Experiencing all of the above in my hometown is an added bonus.

Julia Greenberg, MD

Hometown: Elizabeth City, North Carolina
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Movement disorders, neuromuscular disorders, spinal cord injury, and general neurology
Hobbies: Running, biking, skiing, surfing, tennis, and hanging out with family and friends

Why I chose NYU Langone: I was drawn to NYU Langone by the diversity of the patient population, the tremendous range of pathology, the expertise of the neurology faculty, and the warm, welcoming, and supportive environment fostered by residents and faculty alike.

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2025

Ivan Guan, MD

Hometown: Long Island, New York
Medical school: Weill Cornell Medical College
Areas of interest: Movement Disorders, Neuro-Ophthalmology and Headache

Why I chose NYU Langone: I appreciate the value of clinical and patient diversity afforded across three hospital systems. The residents care for each other, and the faculty are receptive when it comes to teaching and academic endeavors. Compared to most programs, NYU Langone also has more opportunities to exposure to outpatient specialties..
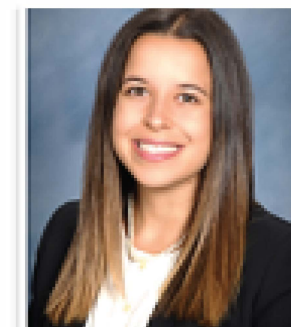

Kaiulani Houston, MD

Hometown: Elizabeth City, North Carolina
Medical school: University of North Carolina at Chapel Hil
Areas of interest: Global health, neuro critical care, consciousness, neuro imaging, pain management, and healthcare access
Hobbies: Anything related to water, centering prayer meditation, hiking, yoga, traveling and mentoring.

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose this program based on intuition. During my interviews , I clicked immediately with all the faculty interviewers and the residents at the social hour. I knew I wanted to do residency in New York City, and I could not pass up the opportunity to serve and learn from the faculty and patients at NYC Health Hospitals Bellevue, the Manhattan campus of the VA NY Harbor

Hannah Kopinsky, MD

Hometown: Detroit, Michigan
Medical school: Wayne State University School of Medicine
Areas of interest: MS and Neuroimmuniology , wellness in medicine, global health
Hobbies: Traveling, yoga and exercise, reading, cooking, pampering my dog

Why I chose NYU Langone: During my interview season, I instantly felt welcomed by the NYU neurology faculty and residents. The camaraderie among st the program was very evident, even through virtual interviews. I was impressed by the academic prestige and excited to learn from patients at three very different hospitals in a city as diverse as NYC.

Current Manhattan Track Resident

Phillip Kuball, MD

Hometown: Hutchinson,Minnesota
Medical school: University of Minnesota Medical School
Areas of interest: General neurology, neurocognitive disorders, sports neurology,and medical education
Hobbies: Movies, Minnesota sports, exploring new restaurants, bars and golf.

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU Langone not only because I knew it would provide world class training in neurology and allow me the opportunity to work with patients from all over the world, but also because it was clear the NYU Langone team was tight-knit and fun-loving. This program truly fosters a culture of support and resident well being, something that is reflected in the residents and faculty alike. I also love

Sungita Kumar, MD

Hometown: The Woodlands,Texas
Medical school: McGovern Medical School at the University of Texas Health Science Cente
Areas of interest: Vascular neurology,medical education,and health equity
Hobbies: Bollywood dance,skiing,trying new restaurants,and traveling

Why I chose NYU Langone: What struck me the most during my interviews was the people and the culture. The residents are genuinely close with each other, the faculty is very supportive and the program promotes a positive learning environment. With the vast and diverse patient populations seen between NYC Health Hospitals Bellevue, Tish, Kimmel Pavilion and the VA NY Harbor healthcare System, I felt prepared. .

Nisha Malhotra, MD, MPH

Hometown: Cleveland,Ohio
Medical school: Case Western Reserve University
Areas of interest: General neurology,public health,and medical education
Hobbies: Running,yoga,traveling,trying new restaurants,watching Hindi movies, and exploring the city

Why I chose NYU Langone: During my interview with NYU Langone, I could immediately tell that the residents and faculty were passionate and excited about their work. The residents felt confident in their clinical abilities and also were great friends outside of the hospital. The faculty I spoke with were incredibly impressive,while still being approachable.NYU Langone also had the best combination of outpatient and inpatient training.

Current Manhattan Track Resident

Eduardo Perez-Torres,MD, PhD

Hometown: Ponde, Puerto Rico
Medical school: Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons
Areas of interest: TBD
Hobbies: Theater, volleyball, salsa and live action role play LARP

Why I chose NYU Langone: Seemed like a kind group of people

Nithisha Prasad, MD, MPH

Hometown: Westford, Massachusetts
Medical school: Rutgers New Jersey Medical School
Areas of interest: General Neurology, neurohospitalist, neurocrtuucal care and medical education
Hobbies: Baking, cooking, exploring the city and visiting museums and art galleries
Why I chose NYU Langone: I wanted to train in an environment with diverse patients and broad sub specialty exposure. The three distinct hospitals at NYU Langone offer a huge range of clinical experiences and pathologies in neurology. I also felt like I had met my future mentors during my interview day.

Lucia Saidenberg ,MD,

Hometown: Pleasant ville, New York
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine
Areas of interest: General Neurology, neuromuscular and multiple sclerosis MS
Hobbies: Dancing, bird-watching photography in Central Park, crocheting, and trying new restaurants

Why I chose NYU Langone: We get to see so many interesting cases across the three different hospital systems.The neurology faculty and residents are kind, enthusiastic, and great teachers. I loved my experience with NYU Langone's neurology department as a medical student,so I am thrilled to be able to stay for residency

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2025

Ali Ahmad, MD

Hometown: Atlanta.Georgia
Medical school: More house School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Stroke,neuro immunology,and sports neurology
Hobbies: basketball, football, stand-up comedy, and reading
Hobbies: Basketball, football, stand-up comedy, and reading

Why I chose NYU Langone: NYU Langone is an intellectually stimulating and supportive environment. The faculty and residents have personalities that I click with.

Nadir Bilici, MD

Hometown: Los Alamitos.California
Medical school: Perelman School of Medicine at University of Pennsylvania
Areas of interest: Healthcare innovation and technology digital health and lifestyle medicine
Hobbies: Hobbyist software engineering and design entertaining and hosting dinners and parties, and stand-up comedy

Why I chose NYU Langone: NYU Langone's Department of Neurology has a supportive, warm culture among residents and the faculty are fun, personable and sincerely dedicated to education. The multitude of hospitals provide a breadth of diverse clinical opportunities and access to the NYU Langone campus at large affords innumerable interdisciplinary avenues to engage with neurology.

Kyra Floyd, MD

Hometown: Wilton, Connecticut
Medical school: UC San Diego School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Movement disorders and general neurology
Hobbies: Hiking and the outdoors, cooking, lacrosse, Haruki Murakami novels, and spending time with friends and family

Why I chose NYU Langone: NYU Langone is an intellectually stimulating and supportive environment.The faculty and residents have personalities that I click with.

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2024

Marissa Ilardi, MD

Hometown: Dobbs Ferry, New York
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine
Areas of interest: General neurology, neuro-ophthalmology, movement disorder and medical education
Hobbies: Hanging out with my dog Mochi, baking, exploring the city on foot and fitness

Why I chose NYU Langone: As an alum of NYU Grossman School of Medicine, choosing NYU Langone for neurology was an easy choice. The neurology department here has great people. The faculty are excellent, friendly, and dedicated to teaching. There is a really great culture of collegiality among both residents and faculty.

Ruben Jauregui, MD

Hometown: Dallas, Texas
Medical school: Weill Cornell Medical College
Areas of interest: General neurology, movement disorders.and education
Hobbies: Soccer, running, and LEGO's

Why I chose NYU Langone: Great faculty invested in the academic development and well being of the residents, and three different hospitals that provide a breadth of clinical exposure

Hillary Mullan, MD

Hometown: Winchester, Massachusetts
Medical school: University of Massachusetts
Areas of interest: General neurology, medical education, epilepsy, neuro-muscular disorders, and genetics
Hobbies: Writing, espresso making art projects,hiking,and visiting museums

Why I chose NYU Langone: It was important for me to be in a place that would not only provide me with excellent training but would also provide me with enriching experiences outside the hospital. The faculty at NYU langone are passionate about teaching and genuinely care about trainees. On days off I love wandering through museums and visiting various parks in the city

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2024

Eunhye Oak MD

Hometown: Chicago, Illinois
Medical school: Washington University School of Medicine in St.Louis
Areas of interest: General neurology, healthcare disparities and education
Hobbies: Reading,drawing,trying new coffees, long walks.and hiking

Why I chose NYU Langone: The tight-knit, supportive community of residents and faculty. The program's commitment to resident education with emphasis on providing compassionate patient care.

Michael Sonson, MD

Hometown: Waipahu, Hawaii
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Cognitive neurology. traumatic brain injury. and neuropsychology
Hobbies: Literature,music,storytelling,martial arts,park our,and baking

Why I chose NYU Langone: NYU Langone has a track that supports and enables me to pursue my interest from day 1.. The culture of the faculty and the breadth of work being done here are truly outstanding. .

Kevin Spielgler, MD, PhD
Hometown: Chery Hill, New Jersey
Medical school: Rutgers NewJersey Medical School
Areas of interest: Vascular neurology. concussion and traumatic brain injuries, neuro psychiatry, and transitional research
Hobbies: Playing and watching sports,guitar,and travel

Why I chose NYU Langone: Simply felt at home after my interview day. The program's leadership cares deeply about resident well being while simultaneously striving to make the program among the best in the country.

Current Manhattan Track Resident
Class of 2024

Mina Chelsea Youn, MD

Hometown: Seoul.South Korea
Medical school: Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University
Areas of interest: Stroke, neuro immunology, neurohospitalist, and general neurology
Hobbies: Cooking. trying out new restaurants and traveling

Why I chose NYU Langone: Its tight-knit community and dedication to resident education and career development, as well as an incredibly diverse population within the three-hospital system

Current Brooklyn Track Residents
Class of 2026

Bavica Gummadi, MD

Hometown: Moorestown, New Jersey
Medical school: Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine
Areas of interest: Stroke, Neuro-Critical Care
Hobbies: Dancing, traveling, event planning

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU because of the strong sense of community and focus on education and innovation. Everyone that I have met here has been so welcoming and supportive both in and out of the hospital and are so deeply dedicated to delivering the best healthcare possible.

Daniella Hernandez,MD

Hometown: Caracas, Venezuela
Medical school: Universidad Central de Venezuela Escuela de Medicina Jose Maria Vegas
Areas of interest: Movement disorder, dementia and medical education
Hobbies: Painting, yoga, traveling and spending time with my friends

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU langone due to its well rounded and welcoming training program. The clinicians are exceptional leaders in their fields. The research opportunities are interesting and challenging in state of the art facilities. Furthermore, the attendings and residents form a supportive and welcoming community that fosters safe learning and accountability.Training in this unique environment and taking care of such a diverse population is truly a privilege.

Melanie Li, MD

Hometown: Munich, Germany
Medical school: Ludwig Maximilians Universit Monchen Medizinishe Fakult
Areas of interest: Neocritical Care,Epilepsy,Global Health
Hobbies: Anything that has to do with mountains, traveling, cooking, dancing and playing the piano

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU so that I would not have to choose. I cannot imagine another place that unites academic neurology with unarguably the most vulnerable patient population in the world while working within a close-knit team of caring colleagues who are leaders in their specialties

Isaac Smith , MD

Hometown: Great Neck,New York
Medical school: Touro University College of Osteopathic Medicine-California
Areas of interest: General Neurology
Hobbies: Rock climbing, bouldering, hiking, playing music with friends, good food.

Why I chose NYU Langone: This program has the warmest community feeling while still maintaining an intensely academic atmosphere, The leadership are some of the most re owned neurologist and yet they feel like family. The patient population is the most undeserved in New York and presents with some of the

Hanna Vinitsky, MD

Hometown: NewYork,NY
Medical school: Arizona College of Osteopathic Medicine of Midwestern University
Areas of interest: Neurocritical care
Hobbies: Cooking, baking, playing the piano

Why I chose NYU Langone: I loved how friendly everyone was and how excited they were to help develop our careers in neurology and research. The patient population is so unique and everyone is so grateful for our care.

Sarah Bou Reslan, MD

Hometown: Ra's El Maten, Lebanon
Medical school: The American University of Beirut
Areas of interest: Movement disorder, neuroimmunology, education and research
Hobbies: Cooking, running, reading,interior design,and enjoying a comfortable evening with loved ones, her cat, and a good series

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU Langone because of the higher level of education and training it provides to its residents. It also serves a diverse patient population from all boroughs allowing exposure to a wide variety of neurological pathology.Another inviting factor is the outdoor New York life, as it provides the perfect escape after long days of hard work.

Current Brooklyn Track Residents
Class of 2025

Jerry Chen, MD

Hometown: Salt Lake City, Utah
Medical school: Wayne State University
Areas of interest: Neuroimmunology, movement disorders,epilepsy,neuro-oncology, sports neurology, and stroke
Hobbies: Listening to podcasts,hiking,camping,skiing,playing and watching sports especially basketball , and trying new craft beer

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU Langone because of its unique balance of a truly diverse patient population and stellar clinical opportunities to learn from some of the leaders in our field. On top of that, the tight-knit, collegial feel among the residents and faculty makes training here all the more enjoyable.
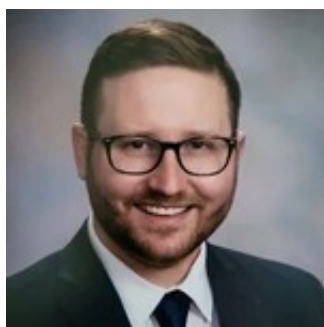

Jessica Hunter, MD

Hometown: Boca Raton,Florida
Medical school: University of Miami Leonard M.Miller School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Neuro-oncology, oncology, and neuro-immunology
Hobbies: Volleyball I have been playing volleyball for several years it is great for exercise and great way to meet new people and guitar

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU Langone for the extensive depth of neurologic expertise and training opportunities and have a dedicated interest in health disparities in under served populations. NYU Langone provides the opportunity to care for a diverse range of patient populations and exposure to a variety of challenging neurologic conditions

Michael McAree, DO

Hometown: Hazlet,New Jersey
Medical school: Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine
Areas of interest: Stroke,neuro-criticalcare, and interventional neurology
Hobbies: Broadway and community theater shows,and performing in plays and musicals and travel backpacked across Western Europe six weeks before starting medical school

Why I chose NYU Langone: Because of its diverse patient population, dedication to research, and commitment to excellent patient care.

Current Brooklyn Track Residents
Class of 2024

Raissa Aoun, MD

Hometown: Beirut,Lebanon
Medical school: Lebanese American University School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Neuroimmunology, neuro-oncology, artificial intelligence in neurology,global health,and medical education
Hobbies: Hanging out with my husband and dog,discovering new restaurants, traveling, and swimming

Why I chose NYU Langone: NYU Langone has incredible faculty who are devoted to teaching us and shaping us in to well-rounded neurologists.The faculty, staff, and co-residents also form an incredible support system and genuinely care about each other. Moreover, its is a privilege to lean and take care of the most diverse patient populations in the United States and gain exposure to various pathologies and sub specialties in neurology.

Nicholas Mulchan,MD

Hometown: Plainview,New York
Medical school: St.George's University School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Stroke
Hobbies: Musical theater,playing tennis,following pop culture, and traveling

Why I chose NYU Langone: The resource available for me to pursue my career in neurology, teaching opportunities and friendliness and knowledge ability of the faculty and residents

Lindsay Tetreault, MD, PHD

Hometown: Oakville,Ontario,Canada
Medical school: University College Cork School of Medicine
Areas of interest: Myelopathy,spinal cord injury,neuromuscular
Hobbies: Rowing,cycling,board games,escape rooms,top golf,and trying new restaurants

Why I chose NYU Langone: To have the opportunity to learn from some of the greatest clinician scientist in neurology in North America, to be part of a program that focuses on resident education and patient care, to access some of the best researchers in neurology and participate in state of the art clinical studies, and to work ion a hospital system, that serves such as diverse group of patients.

Current Brooklyn Track Residents
Class of 2024

Doris Xia, MD

Hometown: Forest Hills, New York
Medical school: Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine
Areas of interest: General neurology, epilepsy, movement disorders, and scoal and economic determinants of health
Hobbies: Reading,writing,hiking,rock climbing,eating,cooking,and acquiring new hobbies

Why I chose NYU Langone: I wanted to serve and learn from the diverse patient population. Moreover, I had the pleasure of working at NYU Langone's Comprehensive Epilepsy Center as and undergraduate students. Seeing the tight-knit community convinced me to join the NYU Langone neurology family that I am now honored to be part of.

FirstName Last Name, MD

Hometown: Name of Hometownl Here
Medical school: Name of Medical school Here
Areas of interest: List areas of interest here
Hobbies: List Hobbies here

Why I chose NYU Langone: Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit, sed do eiusmod tempor incididunt ut labore et dolore magna aliqua. Ut enim ad minim veniam, quis nostrud exercitation ullamco laboris nisi ut aliquip ex ea commodo consequat. Duis aute irure dolor in reprehenderit in voluptate velit esse cillum dolore eu fugiat nulla pariatur. Excepteur sint occaecat cupidatat non proident, sunt in culpa qui officia deserunt mollit anim id est laborum.

FirstName Last Name, MD

Hometown: Name of Hometownl Here
Medical school: Name of Medical school Here
Areas of interest: List areas of interest here
Hobbies: List Hobbies here

Why I chose NYU Langone: Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit, sed do eiusmod tempor incididunt ut labore et dolore magna aliqua. Ut enim ad minim veniam, quis nostrud exercitation ullamco laboris nisi ut aliquip ex ea commodo consequat. Duis aute irure dolor in reprehenderit in voluptate velit esse cillum dolore eu fugiat nulla pariatur. Excepteur sint occaecat cupidatat non proident, sunt in culpa qui officia deserunt mollit anim id est laborum.

Neurology Residency Recent Alumni
Graduated 2023

Omar Akhand,MD
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine

Hannah Coon, MD
Medical school: Georgetown University School of Medicine

FirstName Last Name, MD PhD, MPH
Medical school: Name of Medical school Here

Andrew Day, MD
Medical school: Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University

Alexander Fein, MD
Medical school: SUNY Upstate Medical University College of Medicine

Daniel Gratch , MD
Medical school: Perelman School of Medicine at University of Pennsylvania

Hannah Irvine Russell, MD
Medical school: University of Minnesota Medical School

Yuan Ji, MD
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine

Jonathan Rosenthal, MD
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine

Isaac Teboul, MD
Medical school: SUNY Upstate Medical University College of Medicine

Betsy Thomas, MD
Medical school: Boston University School of Medicine

Sandie Worley, MD
Medical school: Albert Einstein College of Medicine of Yeshiva University

Taoling Fang, MD
Medical school: Shanghai Medical College,Fudan University

George Park, MD
Medical school: Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine

Megan Trenz, MD
Medical school: Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine

Neurology Residency Recent Alumni
Graduated 2022

Mirza Omari, MD, MPH
Medical school: St.George's University School of Medicine

Thomas Snyder, MD

Medical school: St. George's University School of Medicine

Eduard Valdes, MD
Medical school: University of Puerto Rico School of Medicine

Julia Agee, MD
Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine

Kristie Bauman, MD
Medical school: Lewis Katz School of Medicine at Temple University

Stephen Berger, MD PhD

Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine

Monica Chan, MD

Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine

Alexa Dessy, MD

Medical school: Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University

Levy Dygert, MD
Medical school: University of Miami Miller School of Medicine

Steven Han, MD
Medical school: Boston University School of Medicine

Sean Kelly, MD
Medical school: Stony Brook University Health Sciences Center School of Medicine

Andrew Lee, MD
Medical school: Boston University School of Medicine

Mordechai Smith, MD
Medical school: Albert Einstein College of Medicine

Daniel Talmasov, MD
Medical school: Stony Brook University Health Sciences Center School of Medicine

Neurology Residency Recent Alumni
Graduated 2021

Shashank Agarwal, MD
Medical school: Kasturba Medical College Manipal

Andres Andino, MD
Medical school: Universidad San Francisco de Quito Colegio d eCiencias de la Salud

Vito Arena, MD
Medical school: Albert Einstein College of Medicine

Amadou Camara, MD
Medical school: American University of the Caribbean School of Medicine

Elizabeth Carrol, MD
Medical school: Loyola University Chicago Stritch School of Medicine

Abhinav Changa, MD

Medical school: Rutgers New Jersey Medical School

Leah Croll, MD

Medical school: NYU Grossman School of Medicine

Andre Granger, MD

Medical school: St. George's University School of Medicine

Arooshi Kumar, MD

Medical school: University of Louisville School of Medicine

Maya Madhavan, MD
Medical school: Joanand Sanford I.Weill Medical College of Cornell University

Chaitanya Medicherla, MD PhD
Medical school: Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine

Jasmin Patel, MD
Medical school: Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School

Micheal Tamimi, MD
Medical school: Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School

Dixon Yang, MD
Medical school: University of Miami Miller School of Medicine