About Maui

Hawaiian legend tells us that the islands were formed by the god Maui who, while fishing with his brothers, hooked the islands and pulled them from the sea. Named for this god, Maui is truly an island paradise. Towering into its vivid blue skies is the world's largest dormant volcano, Haleakala, "The House of the Sun." Maui preserves much of the serenity that made it a sacred place of Hawaiian nobility, blending island charm with cosmopolitan grace. Once you have visited Maui, you will understand why they say, "Maui no ka oi...Maui is the best!"

Getting to Maui

Five major airlines, United, Delta, TWA, American and Hawaiian, provide service to Maui's Kahului Airport. United, Delta and American offer non-stop flights from Los Angeles and San Francisco. Hawaiian Airlines has four direct flights from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and Portland with a stopover in Honolulu. Hawaiian Airlines services Maui with inter-island flights. Transfer time from Kahului Airport to the Resort is about 35 minutes. Taxi and limousine services are available. You may charge the taxi fare to your room at the Four Season's Hotel.
