Target Audience
This course is designed for radiologists, musculoskeletal fellows and senior residents in radiology, interested in musculoskeletal imaging. The course will also be of interest and value to orthopedists and physiatrists interested in sports medicine.

Course Description
This four-day course will provide an update on various fundamentals and techniques in musculoskeletal magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) and computed tomography (CT). Lectures will focus on advanced imaging techniques and will include protocols, normal anatomy and imaging pitfalls. The course format also features daily case reviews. The audience is invited to bring cases for discussion with the faculty on the first day of the course.

Educational Objectives and Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, the attendees should be able to:
• enhance their understanding of MRI of musculoskeletal disorders and improve their ability to interpret MRI findings
• optimize imaging parameters for musculoskeletal MR and CT
• discuss the indications and roles for CT and MR imaging studies in certain disorders of musculoskeletal system
• utilize new strategies and pulse sequences in assessing musculoskeletal disease
