Asian American Health Seminar Series

CSAAH’s Asian American Health Seminar Series will provide students interested in health careers, an increased awareness about health issues affecting Asian American populations, gaps in health status indicators, and barriers to both care delivery and research for these populations. The seminars also aim to provide an understanding of culturally and linguistically appropriate approaches to research, outreach, and community partnerships in Asian American populations, as well as an overview of qualitative and quantitative research skills.

The goals of these seminars are in line with CSAAH’s Training Core Goals of:

1. Establishing an environment that will promote an increased representation of Asian Americans in conducting and participating in community-based research
2. Increasing interest and competence in community-based participatory research in Asian American health disparities and community health
3. Increasing the number of potential investigators from Asian American and economically disadvantaged groups to conduct research in Asian American health disparities

2012 Summer Seminar Schedule

Thursday, July 5 (10am-12pm)
Overview of Asian American Health Status & Research Gaps

Thursday, July 12 (12-2pm)
Public Health Career Panel

Thursday, July 19 (12-2pm)
Social Determinants of Health (Unnatural Causes Film)

Thursday, July 26 (12-2pm)
Screening of the Weight of the Nation documentary

Wednesday, August 1 (12-2pm)
Community-Based Participatory Research (Project AsPIRE)

Thursday, August 9 (12-2pm)
Experiencing the “Dao”

Thursday, August 16 (12-3pm)
Student Presentations

SPACE IS LIMITED.
To register for seminars, and for more information, please contact Greta Elysée at greta.lysee@nyumc.org or 212-263-0042.