

Ronald O. Perelman Department of Emergency Medicine

Emergency Medicine Simulation Fellowship

First Year Fellows

Class of 2026

Stefanie Biondi, MD

Hometown: Riva, MD
Residency: New York University/Bellevue Hospital
Medical school: SUNY Downstate Health Sciences University College of Medicine
Areas of interest/Hobbies: SCUBA diving, snorkeling, hiking, camping, cycling, taking the ferry to the Rockaways
Why I chose NYU Langone: After completing residency at NYU Langone and Bellevue, I chose to continue my career here because of the institution's rich history, commitment to excellence, as well as the incredible interdisciplinary collaboration and teamwork in caring for our most complex patients. The strong camaraderie within our emergency department and across the hospital is inspiring, and it enables us to provide exceptional care to the community we serve.

Elizabeth T. Yim, MD

Hometown: Queens, NY
Residency: Mount Sinai Morningside West
Medical School: The City University of New York (CUNY) School of Medicine
Areas of Interest/Hobbies: Simulation, medical education, medical affidavits & medicolegal partnerships, scenic walks, cooking and anything crafty
Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU Langone and Bellevue because of the opportunity to see a wide variety of patients in such a historic institution where I will be surrounded by world-experts who are committed to serving patients of all backgrounds and walks of life. I am excited to continue training to be the best emergency medicine physician I can be while accumulating skills to become an effective teacher in simulation at NYSIM.
