

Ronald O. Perelman Department of Emergency Medicine

Advanced Emergency Medicine Ultrasonography Fellowship

Second Year Fellow

Class of 2026

Katherine Harmon, MD

Hometown: Auburn, Maine

Residency: New York Presbyterian Brooklyn Methodist

Medical school: Stony Brook University School of Medicine

Areas of interest/Hobbies: Ultrasound, medical education, cooking/baking, track and field, spending time with family and Irish doodle named Alfie

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose the NYU US Fellowship for its unique blend of advanced US training and strong emphasis on medical education. The program offers rich opportunities to teach across diverse learner levels and settings. The two-year track, which supports pursuing a MHPE at Maastricht University, perfectly aligned with my dual interests. Additionally, the chance to work as an EM attending across four distinct clinical sites was especially appealing as a new graduate seeking broad clinical experience.

First Year Fellow

Class of 2026

Nicholas Spoerk, MD

Hometown: Muskego, Wisconsin

Residency: Maimonides Medical Center

Medical school: University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health

Areas of interest/Hobbies: Low-resource/austere medicine and bedside ultrasound, hiking and backpacking, cross country skiing, and card games/board games.

Why I chose NYU Langone: I chose NYU for my ultrasound fellowship for two reasons. Firstly, NYU has a strong integration with medical training environments and robust commitment to education, which aligns with my interest in bedside teaching. Secondly, the NYU ultrasound faculty culture has a great culture and passed the vibe check.
