Disclosure of Arthur Caplan, PhD
May 14, 2018

I serve as the chair of the Compassionate Use Advisory Committees (CompAC), external panels of medical experts, bioethicists, and patient representatives formed by NYU School of Medicine in collaboration with Janssen Pharmaceuticals. CompAC advises Janssen about requests for compassionate use of its investigational medicines. NYU receives administrative funding from Janssen to operate the CompAC committees, which includes arranging calls, managing initial requests, maintaining records, and paying for administrative staff. I am not paid for this activity, but money goes to the NYU School of Medicine Division of Medical Ethics, which I founded and run, to support committee infrastructure.

I am a paid member of an advisory board for WIRB/WCG on human subjects research standards. In this role I discuss emerging issues in research ethics with WIRB/WCG leadership at meetings held three times a year. I also give lectures on research ethics topics to WIRB/WCG staff and fellows. The Division of Medical Ethics also has a grant from WIRB/WCG to provide education as part of an annual international research ethics fellows educational program held at NYU.

I was a paid member of an FDA-mandated DSMB (data and safety monitoring board) on pediatric inhalers for asthma made by Merck, GlaxoSmithKline, and Novartis. A CRO (contract research organization) paid a daily rate for work done. The members wrote a paper about the inhalers, which is due out in the New England Journal of Medicine in 2018.

I have done legal work over the past two years for these law firms/organizations:
   1. St. Cloud Hospital legal department
   2. Sedgwick LLP
   3. The Cochran Firm, Washington, DC
   4. Law Offices of Wade E. Byrd (plaintiff)
   5. Shipman & Goodwin LLP (Hanes v. Yale-New Haven Hospital, defense)

I have done webinars on compassionate use over the past two years for Janssen Pharmaceuticals. I was not paid.

I have done emergency consultations on compassionate use for Trillium, for which I did not take compensation, and for CSL Behring, for which I did.

I have a paid contract with Web MD/Medscape to record op-eds on topics in medical ethics every month for use on its website.

I hold a board membership (unpaid) on the foundation/public benefit corporation GE2P2, which sponsors a pro-vaccine policy project and publishes a weekly newsletter on vaccine ethics and policy, and advises industry, NGOs, and global health organizations on ethical access to medicines. See http://www.ge2p2.org

I tweet frequently at @Arthurcaplan, if you are interested in my political views.

I do not comment on cases or policies involving NYU Langone Health or NYU School of Medicine.
