Redesigning the Health Care Team:
Integrating Community Health Workers within Affordable Care Act Implementation

May 9, 2013
2:00-6:00pm
NYU School of Medicine
550 First Avenue, Alumni Hall B
New York, NY

Objectives:
1. To share information and highlight changes in the health care system and new models of care set in place by the Affordable Care Act
2. To raise awareness among policymakers and key stakeholders of the need for CHW involvement within the Affordable Care Act
3. To communicate opportunities, resources, and financing and infrastructure models for CHW integration within Affordable Care Act implementation efforts

Agenda:
- Welcome – Simona Kwon, NYU Center for the Study of Asian American Health
- Key Note Address – Richard Gottfried, NY State Assemblymember & Chair, Committee on Health
- Overview of the Affordable Care Act – Noilyn Abesamis-Mendoza, Coalition for Asian American Children and Families
- Opportunities to Integrate CHWs within the Affordable Care Act – Sergio Matos, CHW Network of NYC
- Panel 1: Institutional Models
  - Collaborative Partnership Models – Lindsey Riley, DREAM Project
  - Moving from Grant Funding to Sustainability – Adriana Matiz, Columbia University/NewYork Presbyterian Hospital
  - Federally Qualified Health Centers – Regina Lee, Charles B. Wang Community Health Center
- Panel 2: Financing Models
  - Health Insurance Reimbursement – Judy Ouziel, YMCA of Greater New York
  - Medicaid Reimbursement – Frank Winter, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
- Panel 3: Infrastructure Needs
  - Institutional Buy-In – Romelia Corvacho, The Department of Family Medicine at Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center
  - Health Information Technology (HIT) – Thomas Cannell, NYC Department of Health & Mental Hygiene Primary Care Information Project
  - Community Health Worker Training – Rachel Tracy, National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute & David Aguilar, Project AsPIRE
- Discussion – Moderated by Deborah Zahn, Health Management Associates